Let the good times roll

Web Design Project details:

Ayaka is a physical restaurant and delivery service that has the best sushi and sashimi in Dublin.

Functionalities

- Every element in the website is responsive and appealing to our customers.

- Menu navigation bar with transitions and hidden elements with access to the following: Menu, Online Delivery, History of the company, Policy and Conditions and Timings.

- Our Main page includes the following: Menu navigation bar, Timings, History and excellence, Contact details (with mailto: option), Iframe location of our restaurant (google maps iframe).

- In our Menu we include a wide variety of options between sashimi and sushi rolls, If any element is hovered it will change colours and it will as well display each item's Calories.

- For our Online delivery, we include a responsive checkout site, with checkout boxes for each item selection. We also include payment service online (fictional) with the functionality <form>. Once a customer places an order it will redirect them to another page which will display an "Arigato" message (thank you in japanese). In this same site we also have an option to open another tab containing a box which if clicked, redirects to the menu if you are still unsure about your food choice, or if you haven chosen yet.
